

Shawn Moore is Founder, President and CEO of Think Profits.com Inc., an internationally recognized web marketing, e-commerce and web site design company with leading expertise in SEO (search engine optimization), which has consistently landed the company's clients on the first page of the major search engines.

Exploding into the Internet business world in 1997 by using his more than two decades of senior sales and marketing experience in the technology and telecommunication industry, Moore closed his first web development contract with a national telephone company on a multi-million dollar project and placed Think Profits.com on the map as one of the original web marketing pioneers.

Dubbed as the "Passionate Internet Guru" and "Search Engine Optimization Expert" on the speakers' circuit, Moore's savvy for marketing on the Internet has generated 100's of millions of dollars in sales for his clients from all around the globe and his company has built over 1100 web sites seen by millions of viewers.

Shawn Moore is considered one of the top experts in his field and he has studied and mentored with renowned business and marketing experts across North America.

Throughout his 10 years of building success as an Internet Millionaire, Shawn has remained focused on constructing a team of dedicated, skilled and creative individuals who, like himself, commit their complete energy to the needs of their customers, big and small, with his "Client for Life" philosophy.
